usage introduction

The large - diameter rotating lid makes it convenient to place vegetables and fruits in the jar. Add water and seasonings, close the lid, place it upside down, so that the food is completely soaked in the juice, and you can start pickling delicious pickles at any time.

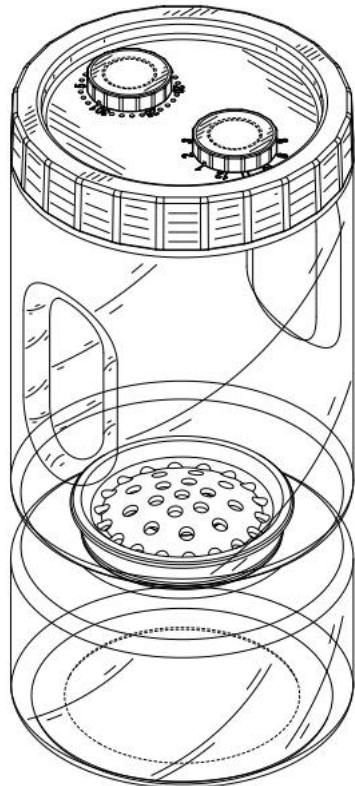

Rotate the jar, and the juice will be retained at the bottom of the jar through the strainer, ensuring the pickles are dry, preventing the juice from dripping out, and leaving you with a clean tabletop.

The knob on the top lid can be used to record the marinating time. The stylish appearance adds fun to the countertop. It can be washed in a dishwasher.

Product details

lid--PP

The large-diameter lid at the top is convenient for taking and cleaning. The PP material is not easy to deform. The knob is used to record the pickling date.

glass bottle--high borosilicate glass

The body of the borosilicate glass bottle has good transparency and can be placed in the refrigerator. It is made of thickened glass, which is not easy to break and can withstand temperatures from -30°C to 450°C. The grooves on the bottle body make it convenient to pick up.

Filter screen, non-slip mat, waterproof ring--silicone

You can choose the FDA version of silica gel or the LFGB version of silica gel with a narrow inner groove design according to customer requirements, which helps to maintain the stability of the silica gel. It can be disassembled and taken out, making it more convenient to clean.
